WORK EXPERIENCE

Kansas Corn

Communications Manager

2016-Present

I have spent the last decade serving the Kansas corn farmers that invest in the Kansas Corn Commission and belong to the Kansas Corn Growers Association. Through this experience I have gained skills in the following: member relations, industry relations, public relations, strategic communications, social media management, policy communications, event planning and promotion, website management, paid social media advertising, print design, content creation, audience analysis, press releases, blog writing, and video production.

The Junky Cow

Owner

Dec. 2017-Present

Owner and head of marketing for our small family business that features my photography, home decor and kids gifts. We currently have booth space at the Main Street Market Hub which has given me more connections within Garden City and its local businesses. Through this experience I have gained skills in the following: photography, design, community engagement and marketing.

Internships
